PROJECTS

Fast Resume App

[01/01/2021 – Current]

Actual Version

This project is an app which is created in C# .NET Framework. This app has a UI (User Interface) which allows users to input data about them and this app has necessary scripts which will manage the inputted information and will generate a resume for this user related to inputted information. The user will be able to download this resume in .pdf or MS Word format.

Future Updates

At the moment, I'm migrating this app to WPF Framework. This application's version will have a betted UI and will be more user friendly. It will have more useful opportunities.

Portfolio Website

[30/07/2022 – Current]

Actual Version

This project is a website. This website contains all important information about me, my digital skills, language skills, hobbies etc.

Future Updates

In the future, I want to add my projects and some tutorials on this website. I would like to add on this website a section with tutorials which will help other people in their job's way.
